

Missouri on at City 2023

Blaine

Blaine competed in the 'Farmer's Den' competition at the Pacific Agricultural Show in the 'seedlings' category which was for students or recent graduates with emerging agricultural companies or ideas for an agribusiness.

Blaine

Blaine

Dr. [Name] from the Planning, Geography, and Environmental Studies department is the IDRC grant, and coordinator working with CHASI to host the Community Resilience in Pandemic Prevention event. Professor Salome Bukachi, a professor at the University of Nairobi's Department of Anthropology, Gender and African Studies was the guest speaker for the event. The event held at The University of the Fraser Valley had over 40 attendees virtually and 50 person, it was an engaging and informative event. Videos and a PDF of the presentation were sent out to everyone who registered for a ticket for the event. A highlight to share is the One Health focus as well as the Director, Food and Agriculture Institute, Tara [Name] (2023) Research Associate, Vertical Agriculture Lead hosted two tables at a recent "farming themed" Abbotsford Canucks game on Jan 13th. They represented the PGES department and FAI, and had great interactions with the community throughout the night.

The [Name]

had a booth at the 26

work and educational offerings of the department. Dr. [Name] Director, Food and Agriculture Institute,